Takes Place of Saloons.

Prohibition has no terrors for middle-west communities. One after another they are formulating community plans to replace the saloon with men's clubs. Belleville, Illinois, will serve as an illustration. When the saloon doors close at midnight on June 30th in Belleville, a community centre will swing open its portals. The first move has already been made to make this a reality.

In Belleville it is admitted that the saloon has one virtue at least—it was a gathering place for men, the boasted poor man's club; so it was decided to preserve this virtue. Henceforth Belleville will have a permanent community center, which will include a dry saloon. The dry saloon will not be a part of the community house, but will be a renovated old-time saloon. It will be dry only in the respect that intoxicating liquors will be absent.

Students of the saloon throughout the country have realized, no matter how strong their antipathy was towards the saloon, that it was not without virtue. Most men didn't drink because they are thirsty. Many men drank because they wanted to get together with one another. The saloon was the most accessible and pleasant gathering place.

In the dry saloon of Belleville, which will be under the control of the community center, the white-coated gentleman will stand behind the same bar, and Bellevillian feet may rest on the same old rail. A complete assortment of "soft drinks" will be carried. Belleville hopes that with the old setting, and the old atmosphere, but cleansed of the vicious inspiration that hard drinking promulgates, the new-type saloon will be more popular than the old one.

The question is being asked many times every day, "Are we going to have prohibition after July 1st?" That is a question that cannot be answered definitely right now; but every indication is that we will have, although those opposed to prohibition still have hopes of continuing in business until next January, when the constitutional amendment goes into effect. The only chance now of prohibition not becoming effective before July 1, is an executive proclamation declaring the army demobilized. This is not likely in view of the statement in the president's message, wherein he stated: "I am advised that without further legislation I have not the legal authority to remove the present restrictions." Thus the president passes the buck to congress and congress simply hands it back to the president, as there is very little likelihood of congress passing any legislation that would prevent prohibition becoming effective, when it had only six months to live anyway.

The Los Angeles Express is conducting a referendum among the republicans to determine, if possible, who would be the most popular candidate for president. The names given on the card are Henry Allen of Kansas, Senator Borah, Senator Cummins, Senator Harding, Senator Johnson, California, Governor Lowden of Illinois, Wm. H. Taft and General Wood. The people of California seem particularly interested in the presidential campaign in view of the prominence given to the name of Senator Johnson, former governor of California. In fact a campaign has already been launched for Johnson. The names mentioned are at present being considered seriously, yet it is a year before the nomination will be made and new material may be developed before that time.

One of the reasons given by the National Woman's Party for the impatience with which they pressed suffrage, was that "we want to get this job over and get at something else." Even when they were picketing they insisted that there "are a lot of other things to be done." Two very fine national suffrage headquarters have been maintained in Washington for several years. There is joy in both of these establishments over the victory in passing the Susan B. Anthony amendment. The next step will be a general campaign in the states that are doubtful. When the finishing touches are put onto the great task, it will be interesting to follow the "something else" that the good women of the nation will turn their attention to.

While The Advocate is strongly in favor of the city securing as many manufacturing plants as it can, offering of sites, bonus, etc., must be most carefully considered. There are instances in which liberal inducements may be offered and it results in a good investment for the city. Slowly but surely Sturgeon Bay is establishing manufacturing plants that is making a future for the city and county. These plants now established here need at least the moral support of the citizens, and a good word spoken for them whenever possible. They have been established on their own footing, asking nothing from the city or business men, and have developed until they are the main stay of the business interests of Sturgeon Bay.

Base ball fans are becoming anxious for the opening game on the home grounds. Kewaunee and Algoma have met on the diamond, Kewaunee winning from their old time rivals. Sturgeon Bay fans are now anxious to trim Kewaunee. While the local team is slow in getting organized it is predicted that it will set a hot pace when it does get started. Other nearby cities are giving their teams good financial support, large crowds being present. With good base ball in Sturgeon Bay, record breaking crowds should be present, drawing from both the northern and southern towns.

The new law compelling cities to publish its council proceedings is one that will meet with general approval. While local papers always publish in their news columns the most important transactions of the city council proceedings, there are many little things that are never made public. The official proceedings are supposed to give all of the official acts of the council, and the way each member voted upon an eye and no roll call. The bills, amount and to whom issued, will also be a part of the published report.

It cost the city of Menominee $2,563.09 for the reception it gave to its own Company of soldiers, Co. L, on Memorial Day. And it was some reception. One of the things that Menominee is to be congratulated on in regard to its reception is the complete itemized statement rendered showing where every penny was spent. The amount stated above included the committee's expenses to New York to meet the boys.

Saturday was Flag Day, but not one flag was seen flying from the flag poles on the business houses of Sturgeon Bay. Is it possible that the day on which the Star Spangled Banner was born has been forgotten? The Stars and Stripes was born on June 14th, 1777. Observing the birthday would show our regard not only for the flag, but for the glorious and sacred things of which it is the loved symbol.

NEW TANLAC PLANT IS NOW COMPLETED

MAGNIFICENT NEW LABORATORY HAS DAILY CAPACITY OF 36,000 BOTTLES.

What is said to be one of the largest pharmaceutical laboratories in the United States has been completed at Dayton, Ohio, for the manufacture of Tanlac, the well-known medicine, which according to recent reports is now having the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world.

The erection of the new plant was made necessary by the rapid growth of the business, as the older plant was found to be wholly inadequate to supply the ever-increasing demand which at the present rate of sale will amount to more than five million bottles for the present year alone.

By the erection of this plant the manufacturers of Tanlac are giving to the world just one more evidence of the remarkable growth and expansion of their business, and of their absolute confidence in its future.

This announcement will be read with interest not only by the many thousands of Tanlac agents scattered throughout every state of the Union and throughout Canada, but to the millions who have used it beneficially as well.

The new building occupies 60,000 square feet of floor space. It is six stories in height, practically fire-proof throughout, and is of striking architectural design. It also has private railway facilities.

This beautiful new structure now stands in striking contrast beside the older building where Tanlac was first made.

Visitors to the laboratories are strongly impressed with the extremely modern character of the equipment. Everything is provided and splendidly arranged to promote systematic and rapid production. The very latest machinery and devices known to invention and pharmaceutical science are here used.

The interior throughout is finished in spotless white and all of the large force of employees wear white uniforms, which they are required to change daily. The main offices on the first floor are all finished in Carara marble and mahogany.

The entire process of manufacture is conducted under absolutely sanitary conditions. Even the bottles made expressly to contain Tanlac are washed and sterilized electrically by the ultra violet ray process. They are then filled by automatic machinery and the finished product is therefore never touched by human hands.

When Tanlac was introduced into Canada history repeated itself, and the demand which had been created in the United States was quickly duplicated in the Dominion Provinces. As a result, it was recently found necessary to establish another Tanlac Laboratory at Windsor, Canada, which is on a somewhat smaller scale than the plant at Dayton, but is no less modernly equipped.

These new facilities give a daily capacity of 36,000 bottles, but as Tanlac is rapidly being introduced into foreign countries it is probably only a question of a few years before even larger facilities will become necessary.

While the manufacturers are necessarily working for capacity production, it is a fundamental rule of the Tanlac Laboratories that the quality of the medicine shall never be sacrificed to secure quantity output.

Uniform quality is guaranteed by a series of careful inspections by expert chemists, from the time the roots, herbs, and barks are received in their rough state from all parts of the globe until their medicinal properties have been extracted by the most approved processes. The finished medicine is then bottled, labeled, and shipped out to the tens of thousands of druggists throughout the United States and Canada, to supply the demand never before equalled for this or any other medicine.

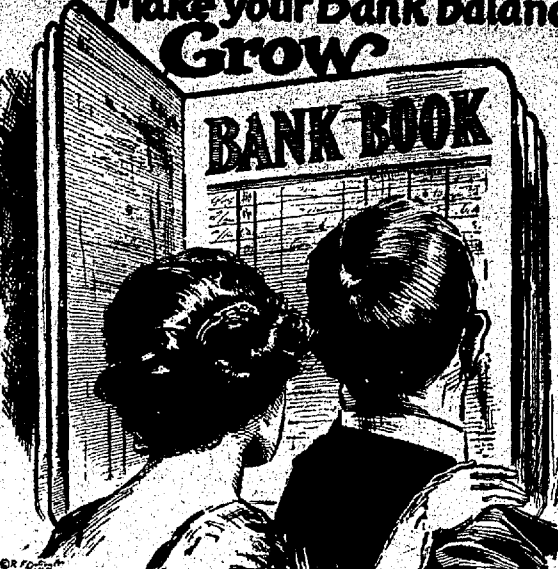

The executive sales offices are located in Atlanta, Georgia, and occupy almost an entire floor of the Fourth National Bank Building of that city.

Tanlac is sold in Sturgeon Bay by Clark P. Bassett and in Sawyer by A. C. Woerfel.

Good Manners. Good manners, which give color to life, are of greater importance than laws, which are but one of their manifestations. The law touches us here and there, but manners are about us, everywhere, pervading society like the air we breathe. Good manners, as we call them, are neither more nor less than good behavior, consisting of courtesy and kindness.—Samuel Smiles.
