THE MOST DANGEROUS DISEASE

No organs of the human body are so important to health and long life as the kidneys. When they slow up and commence to lag in their duties, look out! Find out what the trouble is—without delay. Whenever you feel nervous, weak, dizzy, suffer from sleeplessness, or have pains in the back—wake up at once. Your kidneys need help. These are signs to warn you that your kidneys are not performing their functions properly. They are only half doing their work and are allowing impurities to accumulate and be converted into uric acid and other poisons, which are causing you distress and will destroy you unless they are driven from your system.

TWENTY MILLION FOR GOOD ROADS

Senate Engrosses Bill Appropriating $1,700,000 Yearly for Highways.

NATIONAL HONOR FOR STATE

Wisconsin First, Instead of Illinois, in Ratifying Suffrage Amendment—Action on Beer Bill Next Wednesday.

Madison.—Highways in Wisconsin are to receive attention in a very big way. The senate the past week took the first step in the federal highway plan of improvements by engrossing a measure recommended by the special committee on highways by appropriating $1,700,000 annually for a period of three years, to meet the conditions imposed by congress on states which wish to share in federal funds. An equal amount is to be paid by the federal government, and with the levies to be raised by the counties and the money on hand, it is stated that there will be available for good road building more than $20,000,000.

Wisconsin, not Illinois, was the first state to ratify the Susan B. Anthony equal suffrage amendment to the federal Constitution, despite the fact that Illinois claimed the honor on Tuesday when the state ratified, Michigan being recorded as third.

The Illinois legislature convened earlier than the Wisconsin legislature and was about one hour ahead of the Badger law-making body in approving the equal suffrage amendment, but Illinois was in so much of a hurry that it made a mistake and the job had to be done all over again, which gave first place to Wisconsin.

A typographical error in the wording of Illinois' certified copy robbed it of the honor of being the first to ratify.

The mistake was discovered in the phrase, "which shall be valid for all events and purposes." "Events" should have been "intents."

Wisconsin, rarely careless in matters of legislation, did not make this mistake.

Former State Senator D. G. James, Richland Center, who for many years has championed the cause of equal suffrage, reached Washington, D. C., Thursday with Wisconsin's resolution ratifying the Susan B. Anthony amendment. The resolution is filed with the secretary of state.

Mr. James was appointed by Gov. E. L. Philipp on the recommendation of Secretary of State Merlino Hull and Mrs. Ben Hooper of Oshkosh, legislative representative of the Wisconsin Suffrage association, to carry the message to Washington. He is seventy-six years old and a veteran of the Civil war. His present mission is the happiest of his life.

The senate passed a bill introduced by Senator George B. Skogmo to repeal the so-called Nolan law providing for a referendum in November of 1920 on the question of votes for women, which he called unnecessary now that the legislature has approved the amendment to the federal Constitution.

Senator Benfey objected to so much haste, but his objection to a suspension of the rules so that the upper house might vote on the Skogmo bill was voted down. The bill went through without opposition and was messaged to the assembly.

Senator Charles Mulberger's bill to legalize the manufacture and sale of mild beer and light wines will be taken up next Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock as a special order of the business in the senate.

The latest move by those who are timid about voting for a wet prohibition enforcement measure is for the enactment of a law which would remain silent on what constitutes an intoxicating beverage, this definition to be left to congress.

Leaders of the wets, however, insist that it is up to the legislature to meet this point. They are forcing the issue, which indicates that the question of a bone dry state will be voted upon in connection with the enactment of a prohibition enforcement bill.

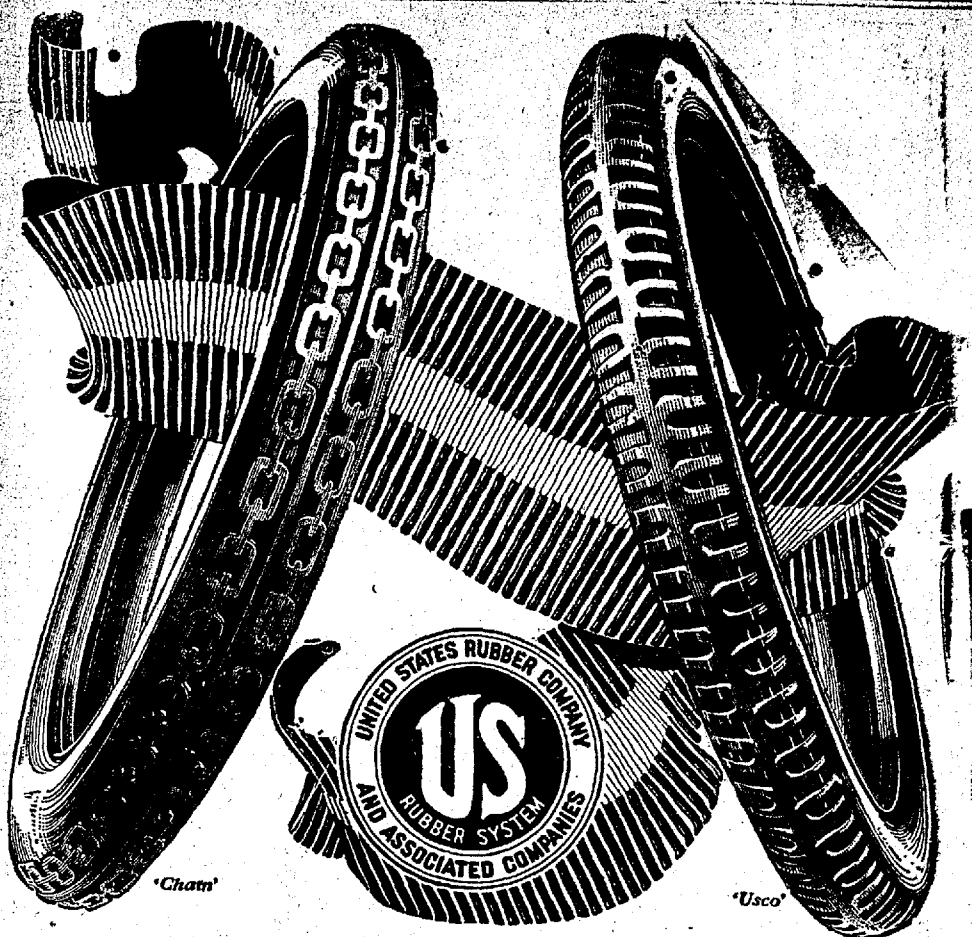

The senate adopted the first legislation in the history of the state with respect to air craft when it engrossed the Jennings bill. This authorizes county park boards to acquire landing stations for airplanes and provides a method by which funds may be created for the purpose of sites.

The legislature has adopted a resolution on the death of former United States Senator John C. Spooner, who served as United States senator from this state for a number of years.

The assembly reconsidered and killed by a vote of 36 to 25 the Zumbach bill for the creation of an educational opportunity fund to help poor students to get an education.

Vetoes Science Treatment Bill.

Governor Philipp the past week vetoed the Skogmo bill which recognizes the Christian Science treatment under the workmen's compensation law. The governor says he does not think that this treatment should be recognized on a par with medical treatment within the workmen's compensation law. He points out the danger of extending the provisions of the workmen's compensation law in this direction if occupational diseases are to be brought within the terms of the compensation act.

NEWS AROUND THE STATE

To Eradicate Cattle Plague.

Commissioner C. P. Norgord of the state department of agriculture has set on foot the movement to free Wisconsin completely of bovine tuberculosis.

The department of agriculture has applied, up to a certain point, the method that has been successful in reducing ravages of tuberculosis among humans. But the cattle plan goes a step further and establishes clean areas wherein not a reacting animal is allowed to remain.

The law provides that the department may test all herds in a given area, upon petition by a majority of the cattle owners in the area. All animals which show symptoms of tuberculosis are removed and only those certainly sound are allowed to remain, reasonable compensation being given by the state for animals removed. The remaining animals are tested regularly to discover new cases.

Abandon Eight-Hour-Day Statute.

The assembly voted to do away with the statute providing for an eight-hour workday in state road and bridge construction and maintenance, passing the Chipman bill to that effect after reconsidering the vote by which it had been killed several days ago.

"I voted for the Marcus E. Johnson eight-hour bill and so did you Socialists," said Mr. Graas, in rebuking the Socialists for their inconsistency. "When we did so we were voting to exempt work on the highways from compliance with the eight-hour law. That exemption was in the bill and you voted for it. Now you oppose exempting such work. Why can't you be consistent?"

Marcus E. Johnson and Mr. Knappe opposed the bill, disputing the claims of the farmer members that eight-hour work on the roads would rob them of help. Mr. Johnson stated that the law had been on the statute books ten years and had not hurt any farmer. Mr. Knappe's attempt to make a long address was cut off by the assembly passing P. M. Anderson's moving of the previous question, 43 to 27.

Nomination Bills Conflict.

A veto by Governor Philipp of bill 4203 by Senator Schulz was received by the senate. The veto message states that the bill, which provides that any person may decline a nomination by filing a certificate eight days before election, conflicts with section 523 and it would be impossible to harmonize the two provisions. Assemblyman Knappe attacked the Nolan bill providing for a board of conciliation as recommended by the governor. The house, by a vote of 80 to 82, ordered it engrossed.

Baby's Locomotion.

Merrill's father had just been learning to drive his car. The baby was just learning to walk, and she walked sideways. One day Merrill ran into the house and said: "Oh, mamma, come and see the baby skidding!"

Common Gain.

The cause of freedom is identified with the destinies of humanity, and in whatever part of the world it gains ground by and by, it will be a common gain to all those who desire it.—Kossuth.

"How nice you've made the house look"

Why not transform your dull, worn floor or piece of furniture by giving it an oak, walnut or mahogany finish? No longer is this a hard, tiresome undertaking. Mirrolac stains and varnishes in one operation. It is the easy and inexpensive way to brighten and renew worn furnishings.
